On The Boards...

The Connecticut Department of Public Works has retained New England Design, Inc. of Storrs, Connecticut, to prepare plans for the Child and Family Development Resource Center at Eastern Connecticut State University.

The Center is envisioned as a new model for educating and supporting children, their families and parents and the university student population in a comprehensive and holistic approach. The facility and degree programs will be focused on meeting the developmental needs of children from birth through seven years of age, the most critical years in human development.

After Hours...

Keeping our lawn trimmed this year was one of Will Johnston's summer jobs. He also raked and bagged leaves this fall. Will is the oldest son of our Russ Johnston.

Year End Reflections...

As the year draws to a close, we would like to say thank you to our clients and friends who made 2000 our most productive and enjoyable year yet.

We look forward to new opportunities and new challenges in the year ahead.

See you in 2001...

On Going Civil/Survey

The need for high speed telecommunications and the exchange of information data are rapidly becoming a central theme in Connecticut's business climate. With the demand, comes a host of technical challenges. During the past year, Meehan & Goodin has been providing design and consulting engineering services for both the SBC/SNET Project Pronto and NATCOMM, LLC of Branford. It won't be long before we can begin to enjoy statewide Digital Subscriber Lines (DSL) and expanded cellular and mobile phone coverage throughout the region.

Under Construction "The Complete Package"

Meehan & Goodin prepared "the complete package" of surveys, soil testing, septic system design, site planning, and permitting for these new residential homes currently under construction in Bolton, Connecticut. While some might consider such projects to be small, to the families who will live there, they are often the most important investment they will ever undertake. Whether large or small, major or minor, they and you can be assured that we will always afford your project consistently careful attention, sound design and dedicated services.
